About the workshop

The UGC-NET/SET examination is one of the most competitive examinations for aspirants seeking to qualify for the positions of Assistant Professor and Junior Research Fellow (JRF) and to pursue careers in higher education and advanced research. Success in these examinations requires a strong understanding of the syllabus, systematic preparation, regular practice, effective time management, and appropriate examination strategies. Many aspirants, especially those from rural areas, face difficulties in preparing for these examinations and are often unsure about where to start, what to study, and how to study. Keeping this in mind, the Ten-Day UGC-NET/SET Workshop is designed to provide intensive, systematic, and result-oriented training to aspiring candidates.

The programme will cover both Paper I and Paper II, providing participants with comprehensive guidance across the major areas of the examination. Throughout the ten-day programme, participants will receive expert guidance, conceptual learning, examination strategies, practice sessions, and valuable tips for effective preparation.
